10,000 FOSTER CARERS NEEDED

Have you considered a career in fostering?

TODAY there is a shortfall of over 10,000 Foster Carers. Do you have something to offer children? Do you want to help children in care? Do you like working with children? Supported Fostering Services is a long established charity and are appealing to you to become an SFS Foster Carer.

Support for you
24 hours a day

Times have changed and fostering is no longer looked at as a voluntary service. In order to recruit and retain foster carers SFS knows that foster carers need to be financially rewarded just like any other workers in social care. Supported Fostering Services provide allowances to enable foster carers to care for children and young people on a full-time basis.

If you have a spare room and can offer a child a caring home SFS will provide training, 24 hour support, and a generous weekly allowance of over £375 per child.

Being a charity is very important to all of us at SFS. We believe every child is unique and deserving of a safe and caring environment. We make sure they have everything they need to enable them to achieve their full potential. And those services are there for you too – qualified and experienced social workers, therapists, working with the child and giving you advice and support. Plus, there's a comprehensive foster carer training programme too.

Supported Fostering Services is proud to have been rated as outstanding at a recent Ofsted inspection. At SFS you can be assured of the highest professional standards plus the personal touch.

Support is always there, 24 hours a day, and carers quickly become friendly with each other through training and social events. At SFS you're part of a team.

Together we enjoy training and a wide variety of events like BBQs, bowling, fishing, even sky diving, all making the SFS foster care experience fun and exciting, and of course rewarding.

Supported Fostering Services is dedicated to providing quality foster homes, a direct result of having plenty of time to offer carers all the help and advice they want, plus any other help that a child needs to help them grow and flourish.

SFS currently needs foster carers from a wide range of backgrounds and are particularly interested if you can look after children across a wide age range, including children with a disability.

The first step is simply calling SFS and we will send you an information pack that includes a Fostering Moments DVD featuring SFS Carers describing their experiences. For additional information you can always call us, we are there for you, or please visit our website at www.fostering.com. We look forward to welcoming you to our outstanding SFS team of Foster Carers in the near future.

BERECROFT FIRE FURY

Eighteen homes evacuated as estate is hit by second serious fire in less than a year

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN angry councillor has voiced residents' safety fears after a second major fire at a Harlow housing estate in less than a year.

Firefighters were called to the blaze at Berecroft at 4.39am on Saturday. Eighteen homes were evacuated as they battled the inferno, which completely gutted one mid-terrace property and damaged four others.

A 29-year-old man was arrested by police the following day on suspicion of committing arson with intent to endanger life. He has been released on bail until July 2 pending further enquiries.

Last July fire ripped through a row of terraced houses on the estate, destroying two properties and damaging 10 others.

This week local councillor and Berecroft resident Lee Dangerfield said he was furious that remedial safety work promised by South Anglia Housing Association in the wake of the last blaze had not yet been done.

"People living on this estate, myself included, are worried about the safety of their homes but despite all South Anglia's promises no remedial work has even been started," he said.

Saturday's fire was eventually extinguished

Anger on estate at safety work delays

THE fire in a row of terraced houses in Berecroft on Saturday was strikingly similar to the blaze which destroyed homes on the same estate in July last year.

Residents alarmed at how quickly that fire spread accused South Anglia Housing Association, which owns the majority of properties on the estate, of compromising the safety of their homes when installing pitched roofs on the houses 10 years ago.

They claimed the decision not to first remove the original bitumen-coated had contributed to the fire spreading and also questioned the integrity of the firewalls in the buildings.

Following a stormy public meeting, the housing association announced in October it would pay for an independent fire safety review overseen by tenants, owner-occupiers, Harlow Council and MP Bill Rammell. It also agreed to pay for any necessary remedial works to give residents peace of mind.

But almost eight months on, residents are still waiting for the safety checks to be completed and remedial works to start.

Local councillor and Berecroft resident Lee Dangerfield, who alongside Mr Rammell played a key part in securing the independent fire safety review, told the Star he was "furious" with the housing association and accused it of failing to put residents' safety first.

By CHRIS MOSS

"I am absolutely furious with the length of time this process is taking," he said. "People living on this estate, myself included, are worried about the safety of their homes, but despite all South Anglia's promises no remedial work has even been started."

"It's been put out to tender but according to the timeline we've been given by South Anglia the work won't be completed until May next year. It's simply not good enough."

Mr Rammell said this week: "I have contacted Detective Chief Superintendent Simon Williams and Chris Ellison to ensure a thorough and speedy investigation is undertaken and follow-up action is taken to protect against such occurrences happening in the future."

"I understand South Anglia safety works, which I pushed for following the arson attack last year, will begin in July and I will continue to do everything possible to work on the behalf of residents during this difficult time."

Mr Rammell's concerns were echoed by his Conservative election opponent Robert Halfon, who visited the scene of the fire on Monday. "It's wrong that the residents have suffered in this way," he said.

"I'm going to be seeking an urgent meeting with South Anglia because something needs to be done to make sure this never happens again."

However, South Anglia Housing managing director Chris Ellison insisted work had already started on the estate to address residents' concerns before Saturday's fire.

"Resident safety is our number one priority and South Anglia Housing is currently carrying out work on the estate to upgrade the properties," he said.

"We have been working with residents and elected representatives to help all residents on the estate have the information and understanding they need around fire safety and anti-social behaviour."

"This includes weekly workshops in partnership with the local police on how to prevent anti-social behaviour, various community projects, mail drops and information."

Any residents concerned about fire safety can contact South Anglia Housing on 0800 6940 159 or 0845 6001 543.

Crews' professionalism stopped fire spreading

shortly after 9am, with two crews remaining at the scene to ensure no hotspots remained. Although no-one was seriously injured in the blaze, ambulance crews attending the scene treated a 35-year-old man for the effects of smoke inhalation.

Divisional officer Mark Samuels, of Essex County Fire & Rescue Service, said: "Having fought a fire in a similar situation last year, crews knew the risks and potential for the fire spreading and quickly called for back-up. It is thanks to their professionalism the fire was surrounded so quickly and contained to the extent it was."

Harlow Council set up an emergency rest centre at the Latton Bush Centre, where residents evacuated from their homes were provided with clothing and refreshments. Those unable to return to their homes have been provided with assistance in finding temporary accommodation.

Firefighters called to blaze house twice before

FIREFIGHTERS have been called out to the same address in Berecroft where Saturday's blaze started on two other occasions in recent months, the Star can reveal.

According to Essex County Fire & Rescue Service, crews attended the privately-owned house – which is understood to be let as shared accommodation – as recently as April 20 following reports of a house fire.

Prior to that date, firefighters were summoned to the same mid-terrace property on one other occasion.

One Berecroft resident, who did not want to be named, told the Star: "Saturday was the third time firefighters have been called out to put out a fire at that house in the past couple of months. Goodness knows what the people living there have been up to."

"One thing's for sure, though; it was only a matter of time before something terrible happened and innocent lives were put in danger."

MORE than £40,000 was raised for worthy causes at the 13th charity abseil at the Church Langley Water Tower in Harlow.

Despite poor weather on Saturday and Sunday, a total of 192 people abseiled down the side of the 110ft-high landmark.

Some £41,238.50 was pledged for 62 different charities and voluntary organisations for the challenge organised by the Rotary Club of Harlow Tye.

Among those taking part was Derek Gatfield, who proposed to his girlfriend, Lucy Fullick, while they were both on top of the tower. She said yes.

"It would've been a pretty big drop if she had refused," said Derek (43), from Bishop's Stortford. "I thought I'd do something a bit out of the ordinary because we are a bit out of the ordinary."

"She had no idea and was knocked sideways. If she had been closer to the edge she could've fallen off!"

Wayne Everett, winner of the Harvey Centre's 'Daring Dad 2009' competition raised £150 for Holy Cross

School, in Tracyes Road, to pay for urgent roof repairs. And Eric Rogers, two-time winner of the same competition, dressed as the cartoon superhero Mr Incredible to raise £213 for PACT (Parents of Autistic Children Together).

Harlow Tye Rotary Club believes the abseil, which has now raised more than £1/2m in its 13-year history, to be the biggest fundraising event in Essex.

"It was windy and wet, and yet nearly everyone turned up," said club chairman Don Cramporn. "Overall we're delighted with the result given that many people are cutting back with their expenditure."

"We're extremely grateful to the people from Dukes Barn, in Matlock, who supervised the event. As you can imagine it wasn't very nice on the tower on those conditions so thanks to them."

"We'd also like to thank our sponsors Newhall Projects, Barnes Roffe Chartered Accountants and Pure Ingredients marketing company."

Dr Plavelil George: An apology

ON April 3, 2008 we published an article, both in the Harlow Star and on the internet, entitled "Conduct case doctor can go back to work" which contained false allegations concerning Dr Plavelil George. We claimed that Dr George, formerly a consultant at Doncaster Royal Infirmary, had been facing a catalogue of professional misconduct charges at a hearing before the General Medical Council.

We stated that in 2001 he had ordered the closure of a children's ward of which he was in charge in protest at having to cover a junior doctor's shift. We also stated that Dr George had refused to treat, and instead sent home, a boy who was seriously ill with what turned out to be meningococcal septicaemia for no better reason than that he had been made to work on a Bank Holiday. We suggested that by his conduct Dr George had acted pettily, selfishly, irresponsibly and in breach of his duties as a Consultant, and that he had faced disciplinary action before the GMC as a result.

In fact, Dr George did not propose nor order the closure of a children's ward, and it was untrue to state that Dr George had refused to treat the boy. Nor did Dr George face any charges of professional misconduct before the GMC. The GMC hearing involving Dr George was in fact concluded in March 2008 without any finding. We would also like to make it clear that there was no criticism by the hospital's witnesses of Dr George's clinical management of the boy.

We are happy to set the record straight and apologise unreservedly to Dr George for any distress and damage caused by these allegations. We have agreed to pay him damages and to meet his legal costs.

ASBO teen fails in human rights appeal to court

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A TEENAGE yob who complained that an anti-social behaviour order banning him from mixing with another youth in public breached his human rights has failed in a legal challenge.

Rory Brytz (18) was said by Judge Rodger Hayward Smith to be the ring-leader of a gang of youths called HTH (Harlow Town Hooligans) in which the other 16-year-old youth, who cannot be named for legal reasons, also played a leading role.

Harlow magistrates imposed ASBOs on Brytz and the other youth last September after a year-long campaign of hell-raising and harassment in the local community. Brytz appealed against part of it.

The 16-year-old appealed against the terms of the order which banned him being in the company of Brytz, using threatening or abusive behaviour and keeping out of the restricted area.

The judge, sitting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said that after the ASBO had been placed on the pair last September, the number of complaints to police about anti-social behaviour was considerably reduced and residents and businesses felt "like they were on holiday".

RORY BRYTZ

Brytz, of Tany's Dell, Harlow, and also of 56 Queens Way, Sudbury, is currently being held on remand in custody at Norwich Prison while awaiting sentence for six burglaries.

Robert Ward, representing Brytz, had told the court he did not complain about the ASBO being made but claimed that it was excessive by preventing him spending time with the 16-year-old youth.

He also claimed that the exclusion area involved was too large, adding: "His human rights are engaged."

Mr Ward claimed the order breached the right for people to have the freedom to mix with who they wished. He accepted the exclusion zone applying to the Great Plumtree and Stow areas of Harlow but said that by going beyond that it was excessive.

Referring to the 16-year-old, he said: "They live close to each other (in Harlow) and would want to stop and say hello."

However, Judge Hayward Smith said Brytz had a number of convictions including three offences against people, one against property, four of theft, and five against police.

He continued: "They involved battery, dishonesty, harassment, threatening and abusive behaviour, and others. It is a substantial list of convictions for a young man of 18."

"From the evidence read and heard in this case it is clear Brytz is the ringleader of the gang and the other one was often with him. He plays a leading role."

The judge, who was sitting with two justices, said the court was satisfied that the reduction in complaints stemmed from the order. However, he said the court was prepared to allow the pair to use buses travelling along First Avenue and Mandela Avenue, which cuts through the prohibited zone.

Speaking after the court ruling, Sergeant Lewis Basford of Harlow police said: "This sets a precedent in how to deal with anti-social behaviour in Harlow and shows that we'll get support from the courts."

Cyclist attempts to grab handbag from woman

POLICE are hunting a man suspected of attempting to snatch a handbag from a woman as she walked along a cycle path in Harlow.

The attempted robbery took place on the track near Turners between 11.45am and 11.56am on Saturday, April 17.

The 35-year-old victim was walking along the track when a man rode past her on a mountain bike and attempted to grab her bag.

He headed off towards Turners opposite Tesco and in the general direction of Wedhey.

The woman was uninjured and nothing was stolen.

PC James Mulholland, of Essex Police, said: "Thankfully the victim was left unharmed and nothing was stolen, but it concerns us that this man has done this in broad daylight.

"We are keen to bring him to justice and want to hear from anyone who was in the area and saw this man because their information may prove vital in catching him."

The man is described as white, aged 25-28, 5ft 8ins tall, of slim build with short very dark hair. He was wearing a grey jumper and navy jeans.

Anyone with information about the incident should contact PC Mulholland at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

New police chief to encourage more community engagement

A NEW district commander has been appointed to oversee policing in Harlow.

Chief Inspector Ben Hodder, who took over the top job from Nick Morris, spent his early years in the force policing the areas of Basildon and Grays before moving onto CID as a sergeant in Essex Police's western division.

He was then promoted to the role of neighbourhood support inspector for the Harlow district.

"Harlow is a great place to work and I am really pleased to be appointed as the new district commander," he said this week.

"I have covered a variety of roles over the years but I want to reassure people that I do know the area very well.

"With the fantastic support of our partner agencies, crime in Harlow has been reduced by 10 per cent. This basically means there were 920 less victims of crime than this time last year, which is an incredible achievement."

"Whilst I will be looking at continuing these performance levels, my officers will also be focusing on more community engagement and customer service."

"When things go wrong for people, as they sometimes do, I want to ensure we do as much as we can to put it right quickly and efficiently, giving people the best possible service we can."

Volcano Derails Euro Parliament

I never thought anything could stop the EU law making machine but a volcano in Iceland proved me wrong. Voting was cancelled because so few MEPs made it to Strasbourg.

There will be an extra heavy voting session in Brussels on 5/6th May to make up time but most British MEPs will be absent because of the General Election. The EU doesn't care and laws binding upon the British people will be passed in our absence.

These laws cannot be repealed by any elected British Government and we MEPs are powerless to initiate repeal over there.

Why vote for me

BILL RAMMELL
Labour

As MP for Harlow, I have worked 365 days a year, seven days a week for my constituents.

I was brought up in Harlow and I have lived here for over 40 years. Since I was first elected MP, I have helped over 18,000 constituents.

I am proud of my record in this area. The NHS Walk-in Centre, Harlow Leisurezone, the new football stadium, road improvements, Sure Start centres and more police on the streets. Under Labour, waiting times at PAH are now under 18 weeks, reduced from two years under the Tories. Under Labour, GCSE pass rates for Harlow's pupils have increased from 28 per cent to 67 per cent this year. I'm not saying we're perfect, but these achievements did not happen by accident. None of these things would have happened without a Labour MP and a Labour government.

The alternative in Harlow is clear. Tory Harlow Council has shown us the devastating cuts Conservatives are prepared to make when in power. Harlow's Active Retired Scheme, an 82 per cent cut to Harlow's advice centre, the Leah Manning Centre, sheltered housing, grant aid for voluntary sector organisations and the introduction of parking charges at our small shopping hatches. If they are prepared to do this locally, imagine what they would do nationally.

In this election Harlow voters face a clear choice between Labour and Conservative. The Lib Dems are 11,000 votes behind and a vote for any party but Labour risks letting the Tories in.

The Tories are a risk we cannot afford.

ROBERT HALFON
Conservative

This election will decide whether we get our economy back on track, get lower taxes, control immigration, have more police and get our powers back from Europe. So these are the things I will fight for:

- Bringing jobs back to Harlow. Cutting National Insurance contributions, lower business taxes for small business, proper job training and support.
- Helping families and pensioners. Supporting couples with a married tax allowance, stronger support for single parent families, restoring the pensions link with earnings, maintaining the free bus pass and winter fuel allowance.
- Harlow housing money for Harlow people. For £13.5m of our housing rent money to be spent in Harlow, not taken away by Gordon Brown.
- Saving our Green Belt from Brown's bulldozers.

DAVID WHITE
Lib Dem

For the first time in a generation you have a real choice with your vote.

You can choose to give in to the scaremongering of the old parties whose only weapon is fear. Or you can choose a new, fairer Britain stronger for everyone.

A fairer Britain which helps hard-working families, which breaks up reckless banks and in which every vote counts, no matter where you live. Liberal Democrat policies are serious and backed up by real figures. Unlike the old parties we published our full costings so that you can see for yourself how we will pay to increase the income tax allowance to £10,000 and how we will pay for the pupil premium, directing £2.5bn at the worst-off pupils in society.

Unlike the old parties we recognise that no one person or one party has all the correct ideas, so we would bring together a council on financial stability with key people across society and politics to work out the best future for our country's economic stability.

Further, we know how scarred politics has been by the expenses scandals so the Liberal Democrats would give you the right to sack your MP if they were corrupt or failing to perform in the future.

So remember at this election, don't be scared by the other parties. A vote for the Liberal Democrats is a vote for a fairer Britain and nothing else.

JOHN CROFT
UKIP

At this crucial time in our nation's destiny I invite and urge you, the voters of Harlow, to send me to Westminster and represent your best interests in Parliament.

You should do this because I believe firmly in:

- Our immediate withdrawal from the European Union, which is wasting countless billions of your hard-earned money on bureaucracy and taking power away from the people of Harlow and Britain.
- An immediate freeze on further immigration to these islands, which are now the most crowded in Europe. This is about space, not race. Charity and jobs must be given to our own people first and every penny is needed here and now!

● Pensioners and working people must get a fairer deal than the greedy bankers who have helped wreck our economy. All the billions wasted continually in the EU must be spent here on pensions, hospitals, schools and the infrastructure so damaged by the present Government.

Your country needs you now more than ever. Again I urge you, vote for me . . . vote UKIP to safeguard all our futures!

EDDY BUTLER
BNP

In this election there is little to choose between the main parties. They are all pretty much the same.

Yet the British National Party is completely different. This is why the Anglican Church saw fit to ban me from their hustings. The other parties have no real arguments against the BNP and willingly participated in an anti-democratic event that stifled free and honest debate.

The BNP has a number of distinct policies that are particularly relevant to Harlow. Firstly we oppose the Harlow North development. We wish to preserve the Green Belt. Building large numbers of new houses will destroy the local infrastructure.

The only reason there is pressure for these new properties is due to the massive levels of new immigration to this country. We would completely halt new immigration and deport illegal immigrants. This would at a stroke take away the need for these schemes.

The running down of Harlow's economic base also needs to be addressed. The BNP is pledged to putting more resources into industrial research and development – long the lifeblood of Harlow – and to rebuilding British industry and creating secure well-paid jobs for British workers.

We are totally opposed to Britain's involvement in America's Afghanistan adventure. Tragically brave British troops – including those from this area and from our regiment, the Royal Anglians – are being sacrificed needlessly. They are sent out there under equipped and under paid.

The only vote that will create real change is for the BNP.

A sixth candidate is standing for election in the Harlow constituency. Oluyemi Adeeko represents The Christian Party which states its primary purpose as "proclaiming the Lordship of Christ" and promises to fight to re-establish traditional family values and outlaw abortion.

CONSERVATIVE peer Norman Tebbit urged voters in Harlow to show their support for Tory candidate Robert Halfon to help the nation "get rid of Gordon Brown". Lord Tebbit, who was MP for Harlow when the town was part of the Epping constituency back in the 1970s, issued his rallying call to the party faithful in the town centre on Monday.

"We have to get rid of Mr Brown and the Labour government," he said. "The country cannot afford them any longer. He is borrowing one pound in every four the Government spends. If we go on like that we finish up like Greece."

He went on: "The people of Harlow must elect Robert to support a Conservative government. He was so close to it last time, it's just one last heaven."

Mr Halfon said it had been an honour to welcome Lord Tebbit to Harlow. "It was great that many of our campaigners and supporters could also meet a man who is one of the best known Conservative figures from the past three decades."

STEPHEN Timms, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, joined Labour candidate Bill Rammell on the campaign trail on Tuesday.

The pair backed a national newspaper's campaign calling on Labour and Liberal Democrat supporters to vote tactically to stop the Conservatives from winning.

"This is a Labour and Conservative marginal," said Mr Rammell. "I won by 97 votes from the Conservatives last time and the Liberals were 11,000 votes behind. Either myself or my Conservative colleague is going win.

"I've spoken to three sitting Lib Dem councillors who said they will vote for me and one other who is considering me. Labour is best placed to beat the Tories."

Mr Timms said: "People are waking up to the danger of the Tory's plans to cut £6bn from the budget immediately."

"This would not only risk tipping the economy back into a recession but also 100,000 public sector jobs nationally."

THE gloves were off as four of Harlow's six Parliamentary hopefuls locked horns at a hustings debate.

Labour's Bill Rammell, Conservative Robert Halfon, Liberal Democrat David White and UKIP's John Croft were quizzed on the economy, immigration, Europe, education and Harlow North by the 200-strong audience at St Paul's Church.

Ten minutes into the Question Time-style debate BNP candidate Eddy Butler, who had not been invited to take part, grabbed a microphone and branded organisers Heart4Harlow and The Anglican Deanery of Harlow "undemocratic" and "an absolute disgrace" for refusing to give him a place on the panel.

Mr Rammell told the meeting tax rises were inevitable whoever came to power but claimed that under a Labour government 60 per cent of the increases would be borne by the top five per cent of earners, a claim dismissed as scare-mongering by Mr Halfon.

Mr White outlined his party's plans to raise the personal allowance threshold to £10,000, while Mr Croft said billions of pounds could be saved through Britain's withdrawal from the EU.

On immigration, Mr Rammell said no party could promise to put a stop to illegal entrants but argued Labour's Australian-style points system was the best way of controlling the flow of immigrants.

Mr Halfon said that putting a cap on the number of immigrants allowed into the UK would reduce the figures from hundreds of thousands to tens of thousands and pledged a Tory crackdown on student visa abuse.

Mr White said it was vitally important to remember the wealth of benefits immigration had brought to the country and said the Lib Dems would direct the flow of immigrants to the parts of the country in most need of the extra workforce.

UKIP's immigration policy again centred on Britain's involvement in the EU, with Mr Croft arguing that "aircraft carrier Great Britain is full" and pledging to wrestle back control of the country's borders from Brussels.

Other key national issues debated during the course of the evening included education funding and the NHS.

On local issues, both Mr Rammell and Mr White pledged support for the Harlow North development while Mr Halfon called for the East of England plan to be scrapped and promised the Tories would "go back to the drawing board".

TO make sure you can exercise your democratic right to vote in both the general and local elections in Harlow today (Thursday), there are a number of practicalities to consider.

Find out where your polling station is. If you are registered to vote, you should have received a polling card in the post which will include the address of your local polling station, which will be open from 7am-10pm.

Don't worry if you've lost your polling card. An astonishing 41 per cent of respondents in a recent YouGov poll for the Electoral Commission said they thought they couldn't vote without a polling card, but you don't actually need it on the day. However, you will be asked to produce some form of official identification.

Remember to vote in the local elections. The build-up to the General Election may have overshadowed the fact that there are local elections (in which you can vote for your ward councillor) taking place on the same day in Harlow. This poll is of great importance in determining how the town itself is governed.

Don't panic if you've never voted before. If you're a first time voter worried you won't know what to expect at the polling station, visit the Electoral Commission's virtual polling booth at www.aboutmyvote.co.uk or call the helpline on 0800 3280 280.

Most importantly, don't forget to vote. This year's General Election is shaping up to be a closest-run contest in years and your vote will make a difference.

Charity's plea to local community

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHARITY working to improve the plight of those who are less fortunate than most has been relaunched at Harlow College.

Cornerstone Trust, based in The Stow, works to improve the quality of life of socially and economically disadvantaged people in and around Harlow.

Wendy Grafton, the charity's chief executive, organised a special invitation-only event at the college's Skylights Brasserie to raise the charity's profile.

"We know the one-to-one support we give makes a significant difference in people's lives," she said. "However, this kind of practical support is rarely funded by the statutory bodies so we are looking to the local community to help us raise funds.

"This is our community and it's our responsibility."

The trust was set up in 1998 to offer training to vulnerable adults, support for adults with mental health issues and advocacy support for adults with learning disabilities.

One of its aims is to help people move out of the poverty trap by helping to build their confidence, self esteem and life skills, attributes which are particularly important in the current economic climate.

Among those present at the launch evening was Labour Parliamentary candidate Bill Rammell, who told guests: "The current economic down turn means Harlow needs Cornerstone Trust's services and other similar services more than ever.

"It is our responsibility to do what we can to contribute to it and to make it a better and more fulfilling place for all of us."

Trustee David Mansfield said: "Over the past decade Cornerstone has found homes for the homeless, skills for the unskilled, jobs for the unemployable and help for those who cannot help themselves. It is an invaluable community service."

The charity currently receives funding from various sources including the European Social Fund, Essex County Council, the Department of Work and Pensions, West Essex Primary Care Trust Lloyds TSB.

Jenny Reynolds, Harlow College's restaurant training manager, said: "We were pleased to help Cornerstone; it's an important local charity that offers much to our community."

Law firm's staff raise £2k from sponsored walk

STAFF at Harlow law firm Attwaters have raised more than £2,000 for the Brain and Spine Foundation by completing a 25-mile sponsored walk through Hatfield Forest and Epping Forest.

Staff agreed the foundation should benefit from their fundraising activities throughout the year because, three years ago, colleague David Chennells collapsed while cycling to the office after suffering a major bleed on the brain.

He was left with severe neurological damage and has endured a prolonged period of treatment and rehabilitation which has been assisted by the charity.

Attwaters partner Madeline Seibert said of the walk: "It was very tough going but we got there in the end. We talked a lot about David on the route and I think it spurred us on to complete the course.

"The legal profession can be a tough working environment but we make sure that we prioritise empathy and compassion, whether we are dealing with clients who have suffered a misfortune or a colleague who is having a difficult time."

Can you offer a holiday home to visiting orphans?

AN Essex charity is looking for families willing to offer accommodation to a Romanian orphan for two weeks during the summer.

More than 40 children will travel to the UK for a holiday starting on July 24, providing homes can be found for them.

The trip is organised by the Moreton Romanian Orphan Fund which will be arranging activities such as rock climbing and a day at the coast.

Spokesman Paul Jarvis said: "Visiting these kids and seeing how little they have in their lives was a truly eye-opening experience. It's great that the charity can bring them over here and give them just a little bit of happiness."

Anyone willing to offer accommodation to a child should contact hosting officer Barbara Saunders on (01279) 832001.

Pub supporting worthy causes

A HARLOW pub has raised £457 for the Royal British Legion and Help 4 Heroes by holding fundraising events over the Bank Holiday weekend.

Events at The Chequers, in Commonside Road, kicked off on Friday with a disco and fancy dress party.

On Saturday there was a horse racing event with half the cash going to charity and on Sunday karaoke enthusiasts paid 50p per song which will go to both causes.

Finally, on Monday the £5-per-car fees from a boot sale in the pub's car park was also added to the charity pot.

Colleagues' farewell to hospital stalwart Sylvia

A WOMAN who has worked at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital for four decades was the toast of her colleagues when she finally called it a day.

Sylvia Crane (72), who has lived in the town since 1963, was given a send-off to remember when she retired from the hospital.

She started working as part of the hospital's domestic services team in 1969 before joining the sterile services department in 1987.

Friends and colleagues who gathered to say farewell said they will miss her energy and "wicked" sense of humour.

Jenny Tebb, sterile services manager, said: "Sylvia has always been a bundle of energy and kept fit by walking to work every day.

"She will be missed by the team and we all wish her well on her retirement."

TWO fabulous Baker boys were in Harlow on Monday as VIP guests at a comic book and sci-fi event.

Star Wars legend Kenny Baker, who played robot R2D2, and former Dr Who actor Colin Baker signed autographs and posed for photos during the event organised by Three Darths Comics and Collectables, in the Harvey Centre.

A Harvey Centre spokeswoman said: "It brings people to the centre and when we get the feedback from the event it is great to hear how they do enjoy it."

Warwick Davis, who appeared in Return of the Jedi, and Scott Capurro from The Phantom Menace, also took part over the weekend.

Seal 'fault' in envelopes for postal ballots

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CONCERNS have been raised that some postal votes for today's elections may be ruled inadmissible after defective envelopes were supplied with ballot papers.

One household received three sets of ballot papers with openings in the bottom of each of the tamper-proof envelopes.

It meant the ballot papers could not be sealed properly without using sticky tape, raising fears they could be declared void if it is suspected that they have been interfered with.

One householder, who did not want to be named, was so concerned she contacted both Harlow Council and the Electoral Commission.

"The bottom of the envelope has a hole in it so it is not sealed even after you have used the proper seal at the other end," she said.

"I could leave it as it is but it looks as though the ballot paper could fall out. But if I seal it up with tape it would look like it has been tampered with and it might be thrown out.

"I called the helpline and asked for an assurance that it would be counted. I was told that as long as the actual ballot paper does not look tampered with then it should be fine.

"I'm not 100 per cent satisfied from what I've heard but I can't do anymore. I have actually been to a count and seen ballot papers discounted even if there is just the slightest thing wrong with them."

A spokesman for Harlow Council said: "This is the only case reported to the council where there has been a slit of this nature in the envelope.

"The advice that has been given is that the envelope should be sealed and returned as normal.

"All postal votes are checked, as this one will be, if returned in the normal way. If everything else is in order the votes will be included in the counts."

Jail threat hangs over man given an ASBO for drunken behaviour

A HOMELESS man has been warned he could be jailed if he breaks a court order stopping him from being drunk in Harlow town centre and the Town Park.

Magistrates issued Frank Craddock (50) with an Anti Social Behaviour Order after an application by Essex Police. The court was told Mr Craddock has plagued Harlow with his drunken behaviour for a sustained period of time.

The order prohibits him from being under the influence of alcohol inside an area bordered by Velizy Avenue, Fourth Avenue, Haydens Road and Third Avenue. He is also not allowed to be drunk in the park.

PC Rob Hance, the local neighbourhood specialist officer who made the application, said: "We hope that Mr Craddock will realise what an impact he has had on the local community over the last year through his drunkenness in public areas of Harlow. He knows this behaviour will not be tolerated."

Sergeant Lewis Basford, of the Harlow neighbourhood policing team, said: "Essex Police have sent a clear message to those responsible for anti social behaviour in the town that this will not be tolerated."

Encounter with a killer jellyfish

AN Australian schoolgirl has stunned doctors by surviving after being stung by a deadly box jellyfish.

The 10-year-old girl was stung while swimming in a river near her home in the state of Queensland.

Box jellyfish are among the world's deadliest creatures because of their astoundingly powerful venom which can kill a human within minutes.

The girl was stung when it wrapped its tentacles around her legs. Her brother managed to pull her out of the water before she passed out but as she was rushed to hospital her heart stopped and her dad had to perform emergency first aid to keep her alive.

Incredibly she survived and after six weeks she was allowed to return home. She still has some scarring on her legs and sometimes finds it hard remembering things, but her family say she's happy to be alive.

'Friendly fire' coroner seeks MoD review of procedures

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE coroner at an inquest into the deaths of three British soldiers killed in Afghanistan by a bomb from a US aircraft has said he will be making recommendations to the Ministry of Defence to prevent a repeat of the tragedy.

Private Robert Foster (19), of Great Plumtree, Harlow, and Privates Aaron McClure (19) and John Thrumble (21) – all serving with B-Company, 1st Battalion The Royal Anglian Regiment – were under intense fire when a US aircraft called in to help dropped a bomb on them instead of a Taliban position half a mile away.

The inquest previously heard grid co-ordinates communicated between an air controller and an American weapons officer did not marry up before the bomb was dropped on the men.

After recording a narrative verdict, coroner David Masters said would make several recommendations to the Ministry of Defence.

PRIVATE ROBERT FOSTER

He wanted a review of existing 'second man' procedures when checking grid references, with particular reference to the monitoring and checking of potential misidentification of targets and friendly forces.

He would also be recommending a review of headcount procedures after the inquest heard how the troops returned to base without the body of Private Foster and had to head back to the blast scene to recover it.

A post-mortem examination showed Private Foster died of asphyxia caused by entrapment following the explosion, whereas Privates McClure and Thrumble died as a result of blast wounds.

He said he would also recommend an urgent review of the use of GPS tracker as Private Foster's body might have been found sooner if he had been carrying one.

The inquest heard Privates McClure and Thrumble were on the roof of a compound and Private Foster was in a house firing from a window when the order for an air strike was given by platoon commander Major Antony Borgnis.

Speaking after the inquest, Captain Ian Robinson, welfare officer with 1st Battalion, the Royal Anglian, paid tribute to the three men.

He said: "They were proud to serve their country and they made the ultimate sacrifice while trying to make a difference to people's lives. We're proud of them."

Good news: Motor Sensei is here

MOTORS.co.uk is shifting up a gear. In just three years, our network has become the UK's second biggest used-car classified web presence.

As the motoring partner for the Star, it has a wide range of local cars for sale on its website, not forgetting all of those local visitors who will be looking for cars for those people who are trying to sell privately.

The past few months have seen exciting times at motors.co.uk. The eagle-eyed among you may have already spotted the 'teaser' adverts in the Star, beginning with the message 'A wise man is coming' followed by 'Find peace of mind, not piece of scrap'. And now you will see a range of adverts including our very own Motor Sensei. Motor Sensei – Japanese for 'master' or 'expert' – is on hand to provide help and support every step of the way when you're buying or selling a car. What we – and Motor Sensei – don't know about new and second-hand cars isn't even worth a mention.

We go further than anyone else to make buying safer and more enjoyable. How? By checking the history of many of the cars advertised via our site. Our free history checks provide you with real peace of mind, giving you the vehicle's background before you take time to view it.

And when you're hunting for your next car, we won't keep you waiting. Our online search is one of the fastest in the business, scouring almost 150,000 new and used cars listed with us to return just the ones you want to see.

It's versatile, too. Do you want to see every car in your neighbourhood selling for £5,500-£6,000?

Interested only in those with auto gearboxes? And it must be silver? No other site offers such precise control over viewing choice. To see for yourself, go to motors.co.uk.

And, to help you choose wisely, check out for our vast range of reviews of your favourite cars. With our team out testing cars each week, we're in the know when it comes to providing you with impartial advice to help make the right decision on your next purchase.

Silver status for funeral firm

HARLOW-based funeral directors Daniel Robinson & Sons has gained silver level status under the enhanced Investors in People scheme.

The revised IIP award promotes and recognises a higher level of achievement than its predecessor. In order to qualify for the new accreditation, companies must undergo re-assessment of their existing IIP standard against a range of additional criteria.

Managing director Gary Neill said: "This was our first attempt at accreditation under the more stringent certification and I'm delighted we passed with flying colours."

"This is a real testament to our staff and to the training programme and systems we have in place to ensure Daniel Robinson & Sons continues to serve its local community".

FOR one family taking part in next month's Midnight Walk in aid of St Clare Hospice, the night will bring back treasured memories of a dearly loved relative.

Lesley Cathorne and her daughters Laura, Heather, Georgia and Rachel will be painting the town pink in memory of Derek – Lesley's brother-in-law and the girls' uncle – who was cared for at the hospice before his death last year.

The Cathorne family will join hundreds of others painting the town pink on Saturday, June 19 to raise tens of thousands of pounds for the hospice.

Laura said: "I took part in the Midnight Walk last year with my Mum (Lesley) and my sister (Heather) and found it brilliant fun!

"My uncle spent some time in St Clare before he died and since then all our family has taken part in all sorts to raise money for the hospice, from running the London Marathon to doing the Midnight Walk and the Santa Run!

"This year we are planning to go super pink to get noticed on the walk. We can't wait!"

Georgia will be taking part in the Midnight Walk for the first time this year. "After the amazing work St Clare did for my uncle while he was with them, I am proud to be doing the 2010 Midnight Walk," she said.

"They looked after him and cared for him in the best way possible and I can't thank them enough."

Rachel (18) took part in this year's London

Hospice cared for our uncle. Now we'll do the Midnight Walk so it can provide same care for others Marathon and completed it in an amazing time of five hours and 29 minutes. Laura and Georgia have also been busy raising funds for the hospice with the 4th Tye Green Brownies Club for St Clare Hospice.

The walk, which is being supported by the Star, starts at 10.30pm. It will follow the same route as the first year, starting at the Water Gardens and heading for Old Harlow before returning to the town centre.

Registration costs £15 and to take part you must be over 14.

Tracy Stratford, events organiser for St Clare, said: "We care for hundreds of people every year, with most patients living in Harlow. The Cathorne family are showing how to paint it pink!"

"With only five weeks left to organise your fancy dress you need to sign up today and start that planning! Why not get a group of your girl friends together and sign up to have the best, most fun night out, whilst raising money for your local hospice so we can continue to care for people like the Cathorne family."

SCHOOL: Pupils at the school in Tendring Road celebrated making it to the final of an athletics competition for youngsters with special needs. The school picked up gold in a recent panathalon heat in Braintree. And last Thursday they were presented with certificates in recognition of their success. The school, which was overall winner last year, will now go on to contest the final in Chelmsford this July. Deputy headteacher Sue Burnside said: "The pupils were delighted with the result. We are hopeful that we can do similarly well in the final. "It's all down to the hard work of Malcolm Harries, who is the sport coach for both Harlow Fields and Mark Hall."

WATER LANE PRIMARY:

Pupils at the school in Broadley Road, Harlow, were looking like Egyptians, if not walking like them, as part of a history project.

More than 20 children in the third year took part in various activities including playing Egyptian games.

Year three teacher Keri Sharman said: "Dressed as Egyptologists and Egyptians, the children took part in a recreation of a burial of a Pharaoh and even helped wrap the mummy."

Some came in Indiana Jones outfits while others were adorned in Egyptian-style make up and jewels. One teacher even dressed like a pharaoh!

KIDDY CARU NURSERY:

A sponsored bug hunt at the nursery at Church Langley raised more than £200 for speech and language charity I Can.

Parents and children searched the garden of the nursery in Kiln Lane looking out for creatures great and small. They were then presented with awards for their efforts.

On the same day they took part in a sing-song and had fun decorating T-shirts.

Layla Tweedie, who is third in charge at the nursery, said: "The children had a brilliant time and the weather was really nice and sunny too."

Renaissance of town centre 'garden' plan

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

Nostalgia update

HERE on the pages of Nostalgia we are accustomed to delving into the past, evoking memories of some of the events and happenings of days gone by.

So it can be a little odd when what is written on these pages turn out to mirror the future.

Yet this is what happened when the people at development agency Harlow Renaissance got sight of our reminiscences last week.

If you remember we recalled how Harlow masterplanner Sir Fredrick Gibberd had drawn up plans for an enclosed winter garden in the town centre during the late 1970s.

The ambitious project never saw the light of day, even though it would have provided much-needed respite for shoppers and a dash of greenery in what was a wide open space.

But in a case of what seems like history repeating itself, plans are now afoot for more new floral features in the square.

"While we were unaware that there ever had been plans for creating a small garden, following the success of the new trees in West Gate we have in fact been investigating the possibility of creating a small seating and bedding area in the square," Harlow Renaissance spokeswoman Nicky Bowland told the Star.

Aralia Designs, the local company that planted the trees, is currently working on a plan which would include a shrub bed with seating around the existing tree near to Attwaters.

The design will be low maintenance and drought resistant, possibly incorporating grasses as well as shrubs and hopefully spring bulbs to form part of the planting scheme.

The Town Centre Partnership is currently in discussion with a local company to fund this new landscaping project.

Nicky said: "It is very early days as funding has yet to be secured to carry forward the project, but it's good to know that we continue on with the tradition of enhancing the area for everyone who passes through it!"

You heard it here first in Nostalgia.

WHAT were you doing when Harlow Town Park hosted a country music festival?

We have looked back at several events that took place in the park, including the old carnival and the day when the Bay City Rollers came to town.

But reader Ellen Jones (83), of Collins Meadow, sent in these pictures taken at Harlow Council's All British Country Music Festival.

She writes: "I read with much interest the Nostalgia page, remembering the old times and in particular the events we used to have and enjoy in the Town Park.

"What smashing times we all had. Tents, parasols, picnic tables, stalls, cowboys and Indians, children paddling in the stream and everybody looking out for them.

"The music was fantastic and everybody enjoyed it. Why did they stop it?"

If you have any memories or photos of the country music festival, send them to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email them to daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk.

No to 'master race'

Human laboratories, sex change mothers and a master race of blonde, blue-eyed amazons could soon be the norm, warned Harlow MP Jerry Hayes, who is supporting Enoch Powell's bill against experiments on human embryos.

Airport: Who's right?

A council survey on Stansted Airport showed a majority of people in Harlow wanted maximum expansion. However, MP Jerry Hayes said the survey with 2,500 responses was "not representative" of public opinion.

Gang violence

Gang violence erupted in The High, leaving two men injured and causing hundreds of pounds worth of damage. The trouble centred on clashes between rival gangs the Fraggles and the Casuals near the Jean Harlow pub.

Strike closes school

Pupils of the Burnt Mill School were among a million children across the country to be hit by National Union of Teachers strikes. The school was closed on two mornings as teachers took part in the seventh round of strikes over pay.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Financial pressures ease, and in fact this can be a time when you snaffle yourself an impressive new job or take on more responsibilities. With your ruler Mars free of testing planetary angles, for the first time in five weeks, a lot of aggravation can fade away. Now you can start to enjoy yourself. In fact, you can be the life and soul of the party! Call me for your financial forecast...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
If one project has dragged on and on, you may have rightly wondered when it would ever get the green light. Well, now it can. And with the brilliant help of the person, soon you can see transforming. Plus, this can see you be bolder than for many a Moon. All sorts of new horizons can now open up for you. It's just down to overcoming any fear of failure you've had Taurus. Over to you! Call now for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
At last your zippy ruler Mercury does an about-turn and heads forwards again. This can help to dispel some of the worries and self doubts that you have been experiencing. You can also find yourself less concerned with negative feedback or lack of feedback that has blighted the last few weeks. This is a real turning point. Onwards and upwards! Call for your in-depth forecast...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Your long term plans may have proved particularly fluid in recent weeks. Some plans now though can take hold and especially when they involve one other special person. This may not be the person you thought you'd be relying upon, but then such is the astral climate that you have been dealing with. Behind the scenes moves can aid your finances. Call for your financial forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Have you developed the thought that the world and its...husband have been on your case? It'd be a little surprise if you had. But then ask yourself, should you be taking more responsibility for any of this? Have you been getting too worked up, when things haven't been just so? Well, if that rings a bell, dust yourself down. Be assured the worst is over! Call me for more news and astral advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Plans to expand your world start to shape up. If you've felt more unsettled than usual, you can feel more at ease with yourself. Things won't seem so up and down. In fact, a planet Pluto. This will give person from your past can have quite an impact on your through situations and plot week. There may be the right outcomes. Just emotional reunion or for chance to work together they can cause a lot of again. This can be an older person or old boss. Call for more news and astral advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
The Sun powers away from a damaging Square to Mars, and communications planet Mercury ends its backwards rotation. Now the silky charms of your ruling planet Venus can bring some real sparkle and pizzazz to bear in its loved-up alliance with the bold Mars. Group friendships are blessed. Recent politics fade away. Life seems lighter. Embrace it. Call me for your love scope...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Finally an ongoing misunderstanding or falling-out can be resolved. Even if you had ever vowed you would never get involved with this person, soon you can see transforming. Plus, this can see you be bolder than for many a Moon. All sorts of new horizons can now open up for you. It's just down to overcoming any fear of failure you've had Taurus. Over to you! Call now for more advice...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
The little irritating distractions that have been getting you down simply melt away. With Venus and Mars combining superbly, this can be an exciting week to get out and about, and there can be a hint of love to this. If you have been putting off an essential job, this can also be cleared away with alacrity. You can be a real go getter now Sagittarius. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Glitches, delays and mishaps fade away. If you're keen to show your flair, this can be a fine week to show what you can do. A personal interest can help you professionally. If you've been finding it hard to find a job, fall back on hobbies like this. With patience and some finessing this can become a profitable sideline or perhaps something more lucrative. Call now for more news and advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Relationships have been interesting to say the least. Even those folk you're fond of have seemed to be on a different planet in recent weeks. Of course, much should you be taking more responsibility for any of this? Have you been getting too worked up, when things haven't been just so? Well, if that rings a bell, dust yourself down. Be assured the worst is over! Call me for more news and astral advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
There has been a lot of nervous tension in recent weeks, but clarity dawns as Mercury turns more at ease with yourself. Things won't seem so up and down. In fact, a planet Pluto. Rory's battlebus is stuck in third gear

REVIEW
Rory Bremner's Election Battlebus
Harlow Playhouse

WITH the much-vaunted yet depressingly restrained televised leaders' debates descending into yawnsome political burblechore and bath-time squabbling, Rory Bremner's appearance at The Playhouse presented the veteran satirist with a golden opportunity to reignite voters' waning enthusiasm for the General Election.

But thwarted partly by the theatre's lack of air-conditioning on an impossibly warm spring evening and partly by a telling shortage of new material, the celebrated comedian struggled to hit the right notes throughout.

That's not to say Bremner wasn't funny; his razor-sharp impressions of everyone from Gordon Brown to Louis Walsh were always spot-on and frequently hilarious. But the stand-up half of his first live show since 2005 too often lacked relevance and structure.

If, as the saying goes, a week is a long time in politics, then dusting off five-year old gags - did you hear the one about Prince Harry in a Nazi uniform? - and wheeling out impressions of Michael Howard and George Bush for one last hurrah is hardly keeping things topical.

But with the dearth of personality and charisma currently on show in British politics - as Rory quips, he can't do Nick Clegg, but then neither can Nick Clegg - it's difficult to blame him for plundering the satirical goldmine of the New Labour era.

By contrast, the second half of the show was something altogether more engaging, a Question Time-style political debate chaired by Bremner and featuring as panel of best-selling author Frederick Forsyth, writer and comedian Andy Hamilton and local Labour councillor Tony Durcan.

Kudos must go to Mr Durcan, a last-minute stand-in for journalist Rosie Boycott, for more than holding his own against the titanic wit of messers Hamilton and Bremner and the artful articulation of Freddie Forsyth.

The improbable panel fielded questions from the floor on topics as diverse as the benefits of coalition governments, the importance of QUANGOs, Britain's role in the EU and, to a great roar of approval from the sweltering audience, which party would pledge to introduce air conditioning at The Playhouse.

But as the evening came to an abrupt close to prevent the audience from succumbing en masse to heatstroke, there lingered the nagging feeling the show, like the very election it sought to lampoon, hadn't quite lived up to its billing.

Choral concert to lift the spirits

HARLOW Chorus is inviting music-lovers to Feel The Spirit at a spring showcase this Sunday.

Performing an inspired arrangement of seven American spirituals, the group will be joined by acclaimed jazz and opera singer Melanie Marshall for the concert at All Saint's Church in Bishop's Stortford.

Ranging from the dreamy and soulful Steal Away and Deep River through to the joyful hot gospel of Everytime I Feel The Spirit and Joshua Fought The Battle Of Jericho, the show will reach its finale in a riotous version of When the Saints Go Marching In.

The first half of the concert will feature Charles Stanford's three delightful motets and works by popular modern day composers such as Paul Spicer, Karl Jenkins (of Armed Man fame), and Howard Goodall, whose setting of Psalm 23 is better known as the theme tune from The Vicar Of Dibley.

Christopher Cromar will accompany the singers on keyboards and the performance will be conducted by Harlow Chorus' musical director, Alexander Chaplin.

Tickets for the concert, which starts at 7.30pm, cost £14 (£11 concessions and £5 under-16s). They can be purchased in advance by calling (01279) 362440 or visiting tickets@harlowchorus.org.uk.

>>MUSIC Take a trip back to the decade when men were proud to wear make-up and the gravity-defying perm was considered the height of fashion. The Magic Of The 80s at the Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) features an incredible 30 hit songs from the era that gave us Madonna, Bon Jovi, Spandau Ballet and The Eurythmics. The concert begins at 8pm and tickets cost £16.50 (£14.50 concessions).

>>MUSIC Burt Bacharach fans will be heading to The Playhouse on Saturday night for a dazzling tribute to the legendary crooner. Put together by Chris Dean (of Syd Lawrence Orchestra fame), the production features many of the songsmith's greatest hits from a glittering career spanning four decades. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15 (£13 concessions).

>>MUSIC The world-renowned Doric String Quartet bring the works of Haydn, Schumann and Britten to The Playhouse on Sunday evening. The group won first prize in the Osaka International Chamber Music Competition in 2008, firmly establishing them as one of the finest string quartets of their generation. The show starts at 7pm (with a pre-show talk at 6pm) and tickets cost £14 (£5 under-25s).

>>FILM Oscar winner Renee Zellweger plays a devoted family services specialist dragged into a terrifying supernatural nightmare when she takes an abused youngster under her wing in Christian Alvert's critically-acclaimed film Case 39, to be screened at The Playhouse on Wednesday. Wildlife warriors wage a war to save woodland

FURRY VENGEANCE certificate PG 1h31m

CUTE and cuddly woodland creatures including squirrels, deer, mice and groundhogs are revolting. Revolting against the housing developers who are encroaching on their territory and destroying acres of lush, natural habitat to make way for ecologically-unsound housing estates.

In Roger Kumble's family-oriented comedy, Mother Nature fights back tooth and claw (and hoof and feather) against the human invaders.

A mischievous raccoon with digitally-enhanced facial features is the chief architect of the cartoonish chaos, calling to arms his woodland chums to teach the interlopers a painful lesson about protecting the flora and fauna.

Screenwriters Michael Carnes and Josh Gilbert tip the balance of power firmly in favour of the critters for the first half of the film before allowing the humans to gain the upper hand, albeit sneakily.

However, you can't keep an army of birds and rodents down and the final showdown hammers home eco-conscious messages about recycling and caring for the environment with all of the subtlety of a big whiff of a skunk's bottom.

Dan Sanders (Brendan Fraser) works for Lyman Enterprises, a real estate company which is developing a small community in the forests of Oregon. The family man has transplanted his teacher wife Tammy (Brooke Shields) and teenage son Tyler (Matt Prokop) to the back of beyond while he completes the year-long project for his demanding boss, Neal Lyman (Ken Jeong).

Tammy and Tyler are both dismayed by Dan's willful disregard for the local wildlife. And when Neal orders Dan to destroy vast swathes of the forest to realise his vision, the workaholic father reluctantly agrees, marshaling a large workforce to clear the area.

However, a tenacious raccoon and his forest friends fight back to protect their stomping ground, lighting the touch paper on a titanic battle between man and beast.

Meanwhile, Tyler falls for local girl Amber (Skyler Samuels) and together they vociferously protest against Lyman Enterprises, hoping to stop the destruction.

Furry Vengeance is pitched at very young audiences who will delight at the suffering meted out to Fraser's hapless fall guy. For older viewers – indeed anyone whose age has reached double digits – it induces sleep as quickly as the Herbal Sleepy-Bye Tea which Dan glugs after a crow keeps him awake with its incessant pecking.

HOT TUB TIME MACHINE certificate 15 1h39m

PARTY guy Lou (Rob Corrdry) attempts to commit suicide by choking down exhaust fumes in his garage, and childhood pals Adam (John Cusack) and Nick (Craig Robinson) rush to his hospital bedside.

The three men decide to return to the Kodiak Valley skiing resort which was the site of their greatest triumphs when they were teenagers. Adam drags along techno-savvy nephew Jacob (Clark Duke) and the four men drive to the snow-laden mountains where the hotel is now in disrepair.

Thankfully the hot tub still works and, after a night of heavy drinking under the stars, the drunkards wake to find that they have been sent back to the decade of Adam, Nick and Lou's youth.

>>>still on screen

>>>IRON MAN 2

Billionaire industrialist Tony Stark (Robert Downey Jr) announces to the world that he is Iron Man. He single-handedly maintains world peace to the chagrin of the US government and private investors, who are keen to acquire his technology for their own needs. However, Stark refuses to share his invention and forms new alliances in a bid to keep hold of his technology and fend off a new villain utilising a replica of the electromagnetic kit.

>>>DEAR JOHN Army special forces operative John Tyree (Channing Tatum) meets local girl Savannah (Amanda Seyfried) while on leave and the spark of attraction is immediate. When John returns to front line duties, fate conspires to reunite the lovers... though not in a way that either of them would have wished.

>>>CLASH OF THE TITANS As a baby, Perseus (Sam Worthington) is rescued from the sea by fisherman Spyros (Pete Postlethwaite), unaware that he is actually the demi-god son of Zeus (Liam Neeson). Hades (Ralph Fiennes), the god of the underworld, causes the death of Perseus' new family and the young man vows revenge.

>>>HOW TO TRAIN YOUR DRAGON A delight for audiences of all ages with lush visuals and smart script telling the story of a young Viking, Hiccup (voiced by Jay Baruchel), who aspires to hunt dragons but ends up becoming friends with one of the supposedly fearsome animals.

>>>NANNY MCPHEE & THE BIG BANG This sequel to 2005's original Nanny McPhee introduces the mysterious nanny (Emma Thompson) to a family in crisis in wartime Britain. This time she lends a hand when trouble brews after a group of city kids come to stay on a farm and fall out with the local children.

Return of Freddy and the dreamers

A NIGHTMARE ON ELM STREET certificate 18 1h35m

BACK in 1984, writer-director Wes Craven unleashed one of cinema's most iconic and dearly beloved boogiemens: Freddy Krueger.

Dressed in an eye-catching red and green striped sweater and a beaten fedora, Freddy stalked his victims in their dreams, killing them with a glove of razor sharp knives.

Craven officially laid his hideously-disfigured creation to rest in 1994 with the self-referential New Nightmare but now, more than 15 years later, Freddy is resurrected in a slick yet soulless remake that doesn't have a clue how to scare an audience.

All of the homemade special effects of the original film, which were part of its crude charm, have been replaced by workmanlike digital special effects. The teenagers of leafy Elm Street are shocked when sleep-deprived hunk Dean (Kellan Lutz) slits his own throat in a late night diner in front of pretty Kris (Katie Cassidy).

Classmates Nancy (Rooney Mara) and Quentin (Kyle Gallner) are deeply disturbed, even more so when the youngsters discover they are experiencing the same nightmares about a maniac called Freddy (Jackie Earle Haley).

The only way to stay alive is to stay awake but the teenagers cannot avoid sleep forever and one by one they slip into the land of nod to face their ghoulish tormentor.

HARLOW

"The Power of Pre-Marketing"

There is a strong argument for creating maximum exposure for a property during its time on the market, and much of our effort and resources are spent achieving the right exposure in the right places.

However, one of the most powerful ways of securing a fast sale at a high price can actually result from minimal exposure - or rather exposure only to a select few!

It works by taking advantage of the fact that people enjoy being offered something on an exclusive basis, especially when it is a property that is "just about to come onto the market". So we often offer our new instructions "off-market" to our pre-registered "hottest" buyers first, resulting in a number of recent sales that were never even advertised! Additionally, promoting to potential buyers that we also have properties that don't appear on our web site or any portals creates a curiosity and a feeling that the buyer could be missing out on something good. This encourages them to register with us so they can then gain access to a potentially popular property with little or no competition.

The prices achieved using this method tend to be good as well, as buyers of such a property know that it is unlikely that the seller would consider anything other than the asking price during these early days of marketing.

We find that many sellers like the idea of an initial period of quiet marketing, especially in instances of a marriage break up, a death in the family, a prominent house in a small town, financial difficulties or any other reason where people don't yet want it to be publicly known that they are selling. The concept also reduces the risk of over exposure or of the property "going stale" on the market.

Of course, it does rely on a strong register of qualified buyers, but that's never been a problem for us at Intercounty.

Mid-life tweak rejuvenates X5

The latest, lightly-facelifted version of BMW X5 is quick, comfortable, luxurious, responsive and efficient, wrapped up in a sophisticated and far from ostentatious package. MATT JOY takes it for a test drive.

Are you sure what you want from your next car? That may sound like a daft question, but unlike most other consumer goods a car is a curious blend of image, functionality and cost.

There are the lucky few who can choose whatever they want and hang the expense, but for normal people we have some difficult decisions to make.

Not surprisingly, the rise and rise of the SUV is down to its practicality, driving position and image. BMW already has a few offerings in this camp, although a focus on keeping a high level of driving dynamics has led the German firm to label them SAV – Sports Activity Vehicle.

The one that started it all has been given a new lease of life. The X5 was BMW's first take on the SUV and its second-generation model launched in 2007 has sold more than 15,000 examples in less than three years. Now there's a lightly-facelifted version with even more to offer.

Unless you're a real nerd you'll probably take one look, think it looks smarter somehow but not be sure why. There are new front and rear bumpers with bigger air intakes, more body colouring

FACTfile

BMW X5
xDrive40d SE

£46,310

ENGINE 3.0-litre diesel unit producing 306bhp & 443lb.ft of torque
TRANSMISSION 8-speed automatic driving all four wheels
PERFORMANCE 0-62mph 6.6s / top speed 147mph
ECONOMY 37.7mpg
CO₂ EMISSIONS 198g/km

where before there was matt black, as well as a larger choice of paint hues and tweaked light clusters, with LEDs front and rear.

Some might be miffed that it doesn't look significantly different, but this is a mid-life tweak that won't upset current owners nor alienate potential buyers. After all, the X5 is as taut and handsome as it ever was.

That also means it's no bigger inside, but that's not an issue either. The generous footprint means space isn't an issue, whether you choose a five or seven-seat version.

Like comparable BMWs in this price bracket, luxury is the order of the day and leather seating all round now comes as standard, adding to the quality of the cabin. You can take the usual high-standard of fit and finish for granted: there's no penny-pinching in here and the X5 now gets access to all the electronic toys that have recently appeared elsewhere.

The latest generation of the i-Drive controller already seen on the 5-Series is feature-packed yet a cinch to use. There's also even smarter stuff like the brilliant Side View camera system that allows you to peek up the road from junctions, speed limit information automatically read by cameras, the Top View reversing camera and active cruise control which now has a stop and go function. Effortless to use, it turns crawling traffic jams into an opportunity to sit back and relax.

Yet the real headline-grabber for the revised X5 is what's going on in the engine room. The four engine options, two of each fuel, are either new to the X5 or heavily revised. The petrols, especially the xDrive50i, will be a hoot to drive but it's the diesels that are most relevant in the UK. The xDrive30d now has four per cent more power and torque and cuts its 0-62mph time by half a second, yet it also offers 10 per cent better fuel consumption and emissions, as well as being EU5 compliant.

The xDrive40d supersedes the 35d and although it continues with its 3.0-litre capacity, the full complement of efficient dynamics measures and lighter weight gives it a major boost over the outgoing version.

Inevitably helped by the excellent new eight-speed automatic transmission as standard, the xDrive40d has all the bases covered.

Functional driving requires very little effort from the driver. The automatic gearbox uses all eight ratios to keep engine revs low for economy and noise but also leaves it right in the middle of the torque band, so progress is smooth and unfussy.

A more determined squeeze of the throttle brings a more vocal but not unpleasant sound from the engine room, while full on performance can be controlled by activating the Sport mode and taking manual control of the transmission.

It may be a sizeable and weighty vehicle (although lighter than virtually all its rivals) but at some point you will want to press on and enjoy the sharp responses and impressive composure that the X5 displays. It's suspension is not the softest but it's more than capable of riding comfortably and the pay off is the kind of sharpness that makes brisk drive a real pleasure.

As a jack of all trades, the X5 ticks more boxes than you could reasonably expect: quick, comfortable, luxurious, responsive and efficient, wrapped up in a sophisticated and far from ostentatious package.

But the real bonus with the revised X5 is that it makes more economic sense than ever, allowing you to revel in its abilities whilst totting up the fuel savings. If only life was always this effortless.

Scrap

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Champions next for beaten Town

HARLOW Town will be determined to bounce back when they host defending division one champions Buntingford Town at home this Saturday.

Town, who were promoted from division two at the end of last season, will have key players back for this Saturday's clash and will be keen to make amends after losing their opening game at Newport five days ago.

Town skipper Vic Goddard won the toss and put in the hosts on what looked a soft and

Newport 195-6, Harlow Tn 148

Harlow Tn lost by 47 runs

Herts & Essex Cricket League, division one green wicket after heavy rain.

Newport's openers put on 60 but once the new ball had lost its hardness runs were hard to come by.

However, the first of two turning points came when Newport struck 45 runs from their last five overs to give them an imposing 195-6.

This was about 30 runs above par on a difficult surface.

In reply, the visitors had a solid start as openers Scott Alderson (37) and Jason Gladwin (40) put on 78 for what looked like a comfortable run chase.

But A. Baker had other ideas and managed to claim a hat-trick in the last of his 10 overs as Town slipped from 78-0 to 85-4.

The visitors' middle order was ripped out in double quick time and Town struggled on a rapidly deteriorating wicket as the run rate increased.

Wickets fell regularly and none of the late order managed to stick around long enough to push on for victory.

The visitors fell well short of the target being bowled out for 148.

A Town spokesman said: "Hopefully we can learn from the defeat. We will need to perform at the top of our game [against Buntingford] to get a win. We need to kick start the season."

Meanwhile, Harlow Town II (144) lost to Chesterfords (145-5) at home in division three and in division six, Harlow Town III (121) lost by 36 runs against Thundridge (157-5).

In division three, Potter Street (190-9) lost to Willingale (194-6) by four wickets.

Bronze at Essex Champs

TYLER Bown secured a bronze medal in the Essex Athletics Championships at Thurrock.

The 15-year-old Mark Hall School student was in the outside lane but still nicked third, right on the line, in a personal best (PB) time of 23.41 seconds in the Under-17 200m.

The Woodford AC member qualified for the final by running a PB of 23.50s for second in his heat.

Lorna White (12) was 5th in the final of the U-13 girls 150m.

The Harlow AC athlete ran 21.07s after returning a PB of 21.00s in the qualifying heat.

Pasmores School student Eleanor Moss (12) was 5th in the U-15 girls javelin with a throw of 14.40m.

Harlow AC members Marleen Avontuur (13) and Isobel Moss (14) both made it through to the final of the U-15 girls 1,500m.

Marleen was 8th (5:27), while Isobel was 11th (5:36).

On Saturday at Braintree in a Southern League division one match, 17-year-old St Mark's School student Tom Richards competed for Woodford AC and placed a fine second in the men's javelin with a throw of 50.40m.

Tom Larkin, 17, was 5th in the 800m (2:05.7).

On Sunday at Walthamstow in miserable conditions, 12-year-old Mark Hall School student Ben Patterson represented Orion Harriers and won the U-13 boys 800m in 2:36 (PB).

Ten Harlow youngsters contributed to a fantastic win for hosts Woodford AC in the Premier League.

Sam Bengel, 16, won the U-17 3,000m (10:29), was 3rd in the 1,500m (4:49) and 5th in the 800m (2:18).

Burnt Mill School pupil Perry Rowan (13) was 2nd in the U-15 boys 1,500m (4:58, PB).

Tyler Bown was 2nd in the U-17 boys 400m (54.85s).

Charlotte Taylor (12) was 3rd in the U-13 girls 75m (11.85s).

Other results:- Sky Mulvey (11) - 2nd 1,200m (4:33).

Lucy Freeman (12) - 3rd U-13 girls shot put (4.87m, PB).

Alicia McArdell - 3rd U-13 girls 800m, 2:53; 3rd 150m 25.1s; 4th 70m hurdles (16.68s).

Lauren Freeman (16) - 2nd 3,000m 12:32 in the U-17 girls.

Jodie Ratcliffe (11) - 6th 800m 3:09 (U-13 girls).

Sophie Fuhr (16) - 3rd U-17 girls 300m hurdles 50.88s.

Paxmans pack a punch

THE presence of twins Glen and Carl Paxman boosted Harlow Athletic Club's senior men's team who could only field six scoring athletes for their first Southern League match of the season at Cambridge.

Between them, Carl and Glen covered 18 events and still managed to clock up eight victories.

Double wins were had in the long jump (Glen A string 5.85m, Carl B string 5.69m), triple jump (Glen A 10.75m, Carl B 10.62m) and javelin (Carl A 37.91m, Glen B 34.80m).

Also on form was Ian Smith, who took two second places in the sprints (B 100m, 12.1s and B 200m, 25.9s).

To gain further valuable points, Harlow coach Steve Lott became fourth runner in the 4x100m and 4x400m, resulting in second in the 4x400m but no points in the 4x100m due to a baton change fault.

Dave Bauer won the A discus with a throw of 38.23m and came second in the A hammer (32.4m).

Chris Clark came second in both B discus (24.13m) and B hammer (20.31m) and stepped in to cover for another athlete stuck in traffic in the B shot put (6.89m, 3rd).

Harlow finished the match in second on 80 points, putting the club in 8th position in division three north.

"This was a much better result than I could have hoped for, which is thanks to Glen, Carl and Steve who are prepared to work hard for the team," said team captain Bauer.

Overall results were: Glen Paxman - A 100m 11.8s, 2nd; A 200m 25.1s, 2nd; A 400m 56.1s, 2nd; A 110m hurdles 22.4s, 2nd; A pole vault 2.4m, 1st; A high jump 1.6m, 2nd; A long jump 5.85m, 1st; A triple jump 10.75m 1st; A shot put 9.06m 3rd; B javelin 34.8m 1st. Carl Paxman - B 400m 56.7s, 1st; B pole vault 1m, 2nd; B high jump 1.4m, 2nd; B long jump 5.69m, 1st; B triple jump 10.62m, 1st; A javelin 37.91m, 1st. Colts in defeat to rivals

REVENGE was exacted on Harlow Rugby Club's colts as they lost 28-13 at home to close rivals Upper Clapton.

Thornwood Common-based Clapton had lost to the Rams earlier in the season but the former had the edge in the set-pieces and also won good turnover ball throughout Sunday's clash.

The visitors scored two converted tries in the first half, while the Rams responded with two Danny Smith penalties to leave Clapton leading 14-6 at the break.

Harlow played well for the first part of the second half and after concerted pressure, centre Kieron Gleeson crashed over for a try converted by Smith to leave the hosts trailing by a point.

The hosts pressed forward but conceded two converted tries and Clapton won convincingly.

Harlow U-17s slipped to a 44-3 defeat at Penryn in their tour of Cornwall.

Penryn are a strong side, but Harlow RFC claim the side used over-age players in the game.

Harlow did not concede for the first 20 minutes on Saturday but then let in five unconverted tries before the break.

In the middle of these, David Briggsenaw kicked a penalty for the Rams who trailed 25-3 at the break.

Penryn scored three tries in the second period and two were converted.

Rams manager Steve Foster said: "We did well at the start and kept going against a side who had some players that were in their Colts team."

SPORT FOR ALL: Athletes at the disability sport event

2012 hopefuls give glimpse of the future

PARALYMPIAN Anne Wafula Strike was one of six London 2012 hopefuls at a special athletics event in Harlow for people with disabilities.

The Harlow Athletic Club member is a wheelchair racer and competed for Great Britain in the Paralympics in Athens in 2004.

Previously she made history when the Kenyan-born athlete became the first Paralympian from her home nation to take part in the Paralympics. This was in Athens, Greece, in 2004.

Wafula Strike presented prizes at the disability event held at Mark Hall Sportcentre.

Wheelchair racers Dean Harvey (Harlow AC), Ellie Parish, Hanna Stibe, Jordon Wright, Richard Chiassaro and Adam Goldspink-Burgess – all hoping to represent Great Britain in the London 2012 Paralympics – took part in events at the London Road venue.

Harvey took the gold medal in the long jump, while club-mate Luke Lowe triumphed in the distance club event and tied for first place with Harlow's Stephen Burks in the javelin.

Disability sport

Alongside the 28-strong team from Harlow Athletics Club's all ability section, there were representatives from Harlow Fields School, Epping Sportability, Uttlesford, and Orwell Panthers (Ipswich).

A total of 50 competitors were split into five groups and they took part in events such as turbo javelin, grip ball, long jump, shot put, distance club, plus 60m, 100m and 200m sprints.

For the Harlow athletes this was excellent preparation for the forthcoming Eastern Regional Athletics Championships at Chelmsford's Melbourne Park track on Saturday May 15.

The event was funded by Harlow's Children and Young People Strategic Partnership, Sportsex and the Boshier-Hinton Foundation.

The competition was organised by Harlow Council with officials from Harlow Athletics Club, Epping Sportability and staff from Harlow Council.

Penguins shine in league meet

MASON Arnold was the star Harlow Penguins swimmer as he claimed two first spots in the first round of a junior Speedo league tournament.

The 12-year-old came first in the 50m freestyle (32.46 seconds) and 50m backstroke (39.45s).

Mason was competing in the 12 years and under category at Braintree.

He was also part of the Penguins 12 and under freestyle relay team of Luke Sears (12), Liam Jones (11) and Magnus Koscoan (11) that finished third.

Magnus came second in the 11 and under 50m backstroke (44.07s).

Emily Poolman (10) came fourth in the girls 50m 10 and under freestyle (40.27s), while Jamie Rushworth (10) clocked 39.68s for fourth in the boys 50m 10 and under freestyle.

Despite the above swimmers' efforts, Penguins were last out of seven teams.

Swimming

Penguins club spokeswoman Sally Mackown put this down to the lack of swimmers in certain categories.

TOP SWIM: Emily Poolman secured a good fourth in the girls 50m 10 and under freestyle

"In the nine-year-old relays, we do not have four girl swimmers so we have to put in an older girl and declare 'over-age' in order to put in a team but their position does not count towards the team total," she explained.

"This happened in four events which meant we could not compete in four relay events.

"It's very disappointing that we do not have enough members of the right ages to compete. Obviously when we get to the new pool we can take on more members."

Penguins are due to move into their plush base at the newly-built Harlow Leisurezone in Second Avenue at the end of this month.

Stort captain 'beggars belief'

STORT Valley Angling Society club captain Alan Heywood enjoyed a successful day on the Bulbeggars stretch of the Grand Union Canal near Berkhamsted.

Heywood claimed top spot with a weight of 13lbs 5ozs, just 4ozs ahead of Bob Groom (13lb 1oz), who was second.

It could have been even better for Heywood as he also lost several decent fish during the day, so his winning margin would have been even greater.

Angling

Steve Beehan was third with 8lbs 5ozs.

A specimen perch of 11lbs 8ozs helped Ryan Head lift the junior prize.

A total of 53lbs 9ozs was weighed in by those who bothered the scalesmen.

Harlow will not be holding the traditional end-of-season presentation this time after a turbulent season which has seen a vast turnover of players.

"Only one or two players have been here throughout the season and we have had more than 100 players this season so it would be difficult to have a presentation," Cunningham said.

"However, we do want to hold something in the summer for supporters and people who have done a lot for the club.

"[This will probably be nearer] to the start of] next season."

Meanwhile, club secretary Graeme Auger has resigned his position.

Match day secretary John McClelland will take over the reins.

Auger is set to join Stortford in an administrative role.

"We would like to thank Graeme for what he has done when he came back this season and all he has done in the past," added Cunningham.

However, club president

Ron Bruce will remain in his role.

Rumours had abounded this week that Bruce could be replaced.

Bruce has been club president since 1995.

He said: "When Tom [Cunningham] and John [Barnett] came in I asked if they wanted me to stay on as president and they said 'yes'."

Bowen's a Bandit buster

LUKE Bowen, above, played an important part in Rockets' thumping 59-33 Premier League victory over Berwick Bandits, scoring six points from his four rides.

The Harlow rider showed few ill effects from the shoulder injury he sustained two weeks ago and was involved in two of the most thrilling races of the Bank Holiday Monday meeting. In a dramatic Heat 5, the Rockets' Jordan Frampton caught race leader Adrian Rymel right on the line to claim victory, while Bowen won his duel with Jade Mudgway for third place.

Bowen also produced a stunning pass to overhaul Anders Andersen for second spot in Heat 14.

Rockets' emphatic win was overshadowed by injuries to two of their star riders - Frampton and Kyle Hughes.

Hughes was involved in an alarming crash in the early stages of the meeting.

The 20-year-old tangled with Michal Makovsky in Heat 4, and it was initially feared he had sustained a fractured right foot after it had become caught up in his rear wheel.

But hospital X-rays revealed he had suffered tissue damage and Hughes should be back for Friday's crunch Knockout tie in Edinburgh this weekend.

The injuries failed to deter Rockets as they rattled up 5-1 wins in the first four races to wrap up the match.

Rye House scorers: Chris Neath 7+1 (from four rides); Stefan Ekberg 11+1 (5); Jordan Frampton 8 (3); Luke Bowen 6+2 (4); Linus Sundstrom 13+1 (5); Kurt Shields 11+4 (7); Kyle Hughes 3 (1).

The Butler did it!

Experienced all-rounder quits side before opener

NICK Butler's decision to quit Harlow just days before their Shepherd Neame Essex League opener has hit the Marigolds club's hopes of promotion this season.

Harlow, who open their division two campaign against Horndon-on-the-Hill at home this Saturday, will certainly miss the presence of the all-rounder, pictured above.

His off-spinners can be a real threat to opposing teams particularly on wickets offering turn, and he has made valuable runs at the top of the order.

Harlow skipper Jason

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

McNally said Butler, who lives near Billericay, was leaving because of transport problems.

In a second blow, spinner Jack Davies has been ruled out for the first part of the season after sustaining a broken finger.

Commenting on Butler's surprise departure McNally added: "It's not the best thing to happen to us. It's a big blow as he has the potential to be a match-winner."

Left-arm seamer and hard-hitting batsman Nick Baxter, who has first team experience, will replace Butler this Saturday.

McNally said: "Nick [Baxter] can play a part for us in the first team.

"We have lost Jack Davies who is a promising spinner. He has a broken finger and will be out for a while."

However, Harlow's captain is buoyant about his attack.

"I would like another spinner ideally but in myself, Andrew McGarry [former Essex bowler], Luke Monger, Luke Heskett and Ahmed Khawaja we have bowlers who could get into any other side in the League," he said.

"Andrew can work out weaknesses of batsmen cleverly. His experience will be useful."

McNally is confident that the batting will prosper this season and feels youngster Nino Calvino can build on the century he scored against Buckhurst Hill in the Essex League Cup and that James Butler can do well too.

"We want to give Nino the opportunities. He has the temperament and he has played well against Buckhurst Hill and showed a lot when he made 25 not out when we beat Broxbourne," he said.

"James Butler will keep wicket and can do well with the bat too. I feel batsmen are valuing their wickets more in the matches so far this season and this is crucial."

McNally's aim is clear.

"If we cannot win the championship we want to gain promotion."

He added: "Horndon will be a tough game and we want to push them hard."

Hawks in promotion cash boost

TOM Cunningham has said that whoever is manager of Harlow Town FC next season will have a budget capable of promotion.

The Hawks co-owner, right, told the Star that a figure had been agreed at a board meeting but would not reveal what that was.

However, he said it would be enough for the Hawks to launch a promotion bid in either the Ryman League division one north or the Essex Senior League.

Harlow finished bottom of division one north in the 2009-10 season and will be relegated unless teams who finished above them in the non-League pyramid merge or fold.

The Barrows Farm club are clinging to the hope that clubs will drop out of either the Ryman League, Blue Square South or the Blue Square Premier and this will give them a reprieve but in all likelihood Essex Senior League football will be Harlow's diet next term.

Cunningham said:

"The amount of money [from the budget] over a whole season would give a good chance of promotion from Ryman division one north."

"So if we work from that and are in the Essex Senior League we would be in with a wonderful chance."

Cunningham hopes to have appointed a new manager by this time next week.

Caretaker boss Kevin Warren is one of three applicants.

Cunningham said: "I will be speaking to Kevin on Friday [tomorrow] and take the process from there.

"I hope to have appointed someone by Tuesday or Wednesday next week."

Warren remains hopeful that he will get the nod. He said: "I am well organised and go to a lot of games. I know a lot of players. Two other clubs [a Ryman premier side and an Essex Senior League club] have spoken to me but I want to get the Harlow job."
